The role of the dental professional in the detection and management of pediatric sleep-disordered breathing

Pediatric sleep-disordered breathing (SDB), a general term for breathing difficulties during sleep ranging from loud snoring to obstructive sleep apnea, is a significant and often undiagnosed problem impacting the lives of numerous children. Sadly, for many of the children suffering from SDB, their condition often goes undiagnosed, leading to significant and unnecessary oral and systemic health implications that will impact them for the duration of their lives. Therefore, it is essential that the dental practitioner recognize the signs and symptoms of pediatric SDB, understand how to make the appropriate referral(s) to their dental and/or medical colleagues, and be cognizant of the role that interceptive orthodontic treatment can play in the improvement of SDB.

Dr. DeLuke will review the literature regarding the etiology, prevalence, and health implications of SDB in the pediatric population, describe the oral and systemic signs and symptoms most commonly present in patients who suffer from SDB, and demonstrate a unique and innovative approach to the interceptive orthodontic treatment of these patients. Numerous patient cases will be presented to exemplify how the dentist, orthodontist, and ENT/allergist can work together to transform the lives of children suffering from SDB. Whether you treat pediatric patients, screen and refer pediatric patients to your colleagues, or know any children (including your own!) who suffer from SDB, you do not want to miss this presentation!

Michael K. DeLuke, DDS, MDS

Dr. Michael K. DeLuke obtained his DDS from SUNY Stony Brook, where he graduated as class valedictorian and was inducted into Omicron Kappa Upsilon. He obtained his Certificate of Proficiency in Orthodontics and Master of Dental Science (MDS) degree from the University of Connecticut, serving as Chief Resident in his final year. Dr. DeLuke is a Diplomate of the American Board of Orthodontics, served as the orthodontist on the prestigious Cleft Craniofacial Team at Albany Medical Center, served as a clinical professor at Ellis Hospital, the University of Connecticut Health Center Department of Orthodontics, and the NSU College of Dental Medicine in the Department of Orthodontics. He is currently a visiting adjunct faculty member in the Montefiore Einstein Orthodontic Residency Program. Dr. DeLuke owned and operated DeLuke Orthodontics in Upstate NY from 2005 – 2023, and launched DeLuke Orthodontic Coaching in 2022 with the mission of helping his colleagues succeed both personally and professionally. He has lectured at numerous regional and national meetings over the past 20 years, has published multiple articles in orthodontic journals, and sits on the editorial board of OrthoTown Magazine. Dr. DeLuke is also the creator and host of The DOC Podcast.

Learning Objectives

- Review the etiology and prevalence of SDB in pediatric patients.
- Discuss the clinical signs and symptoms (both oral and systemic) of SDB in pediatric patients.
- Demonstrate how to radiographically evaluate the airway of pediatric patients using low-dose CBCT imaging.
- Review when and how to refer a pediatric patient with an airway issue to the ENT and/or allergist.
- Review the traditional options for orthodontic treatment to expand the arches of a pediatric patient.
- Explain an innovative technique to painlessly expand the arches, improve airway patency, and eliminate the need for extraction of permanent teeth using interceptive orthodontic treatment in preadolescent patients who suffer from SDB.

Investing in Excellence: Why Dental Society Continuing Education Matters

Curated Knowledge You Can Trust

Not all continuing education is created equal. One of the greatest strengths of courses offered through Dental Societies is the rigorous, thoughtful process behind speaker selection. These organizations do not simply open their podiums to anyone — they carefully vet clinicians, researchers, and educators whose expertise has been validated through peer recognition, published research, and proven clinical outcomes. When you attend a Dental Society course, you are learning from professionals whose knowledge has been reviewed and endorsed by your peers in the field.

This level of quality control is invaluable. It saves practitioners from wading through a sea of commercially driven presentations and ensures that every hour of CE earned is genuinely educational, evidence-based, and clinically applicable.

The Obligation to Stay Current

Dentistry is not a static profession. The materials we bond, the imaging systems we use, the digital workflows that guide our restorations, and the minimally invasive techniques we apply — all of these are evolving at a remarkable pace. New composite formulations, CAD/CAM milling technology, cone-beam CT, clear aligner therapy, laser dentistry, and biologic regenerative approaches are no longer distant concepts reserved for academia. They are here, in practices across the country, transforming patient care every day. Staying updated through structured continuing education is not merely a licensing requirement — it is a professional and ethical commitment to our patients. A dentist who graduated ten years ago and has not actively engaged with new learning is, in many respects, practicing a different dentistry than what the current standard of care demands.

Today's Patient Is Informed, and Discerning

We live in an era where a patient can research their symptoms, their treatment options, and their dentist's credentials before they ever set foot in the office. Social media, dental health forums, and consumer review platforms have empowered patients to ask sharper questions and make more deliberate choices about who treats them.

Increasingly, patients seek out providers who embrace modern technology — digital impressions, same-day crowns, guided implant surgery, or simply a paperless, screen-forward practice environment that signals competence and care.

Being technology-forward is no longer a luxury differentiator; it is an expectation. Practices that communicate their commitment to ongoing education and modern methods attract and retain patients more effectively. Displaying CE credentials, sharing professional development milestones, and being able to discuss the latest treatment innovations with confidence builds the kind of trust that sustains a practice long-term.

EARLY BIRD RATE - Register Now With the QR Code

You can beat shrinkflation!

Do you feel like you're getting less. Maybe even paying more and getting less. It doesn't have to be that way. You can get more, as Aaron Boone (New York Yankee Manager) always says "it's right in front of us" (btw - I'm happy to talk Yankees at any time). Are you taking advantage of our meetings. The in-person General Membership Meetings are now at the Hamlet Golf and Country Club. Renovated, bright, airy with a great view of the manicured golf course and landscape. The food is better and the lecturers that our Education Committee are bringing in are excellent. The opportunities to network with colleagues you do not get at online meetings. The bits of valuable information over dinner from colleagues on how they found a hygienist or a practice to purchase. Or how they consolidated loans and saved money and how they love their new scanner or CEREC machine. Maybe a new material that raises both doctor and patient satisfaction. Do not forget, the sponsors are there and when you visit them it is a win win. They provide the funding for us to do these in person meetings, they have expertise for you to leverage. Every meeting is an opportunity. We work hard to foster a collaborative, cooperative environment. It's right there for you. We do this for every event including all our Seminar Series events, BlockBuster Lectures and our popular annual, Compliance Day Event.

All of our Continuing Education events are half price for members. We further discount them with package and early-bird pricing. That is for you all to take advantage of, and we hope that you do! For example, when you take advantage of early-bird pricing (such as we have right now for our BlockBuster event on November 4th), it provides us better insight to bring sponsors in, estimate and negotiate food and other options at the venues.

Other things you may learn from colleagues (because admittedly I wish we were better at delivering to you directly) is how they leveraged a member benefit. What an endorsement when a colleague says they joined the ADA Credit Union and it's awesome. Or they utilized the NYSDA Legal Services Panel for a free consultation. Or they say you missed it, the last Seminar Series Event was fantastic.

You think I am over selling it? If you haven't been to an event in the last year you really can't say. One thing I would agree with you on, it be better if you were there.

Take a moment, scan the QR Code, pick an event and register AND COME ON OUT and tell me what you think.

Digital Dentistry Planning Workflow: From Planning to Optimal Outcome

This one-day course offers dental professionals a comprehensive introduction to the principles and practical applications of digital dentistry. Participants will explore the full digital workflow - from patient data acquisition to treatment planning and execution - using cutting-edge technologies that are transforming modern dental practice. Through this interactive lecture, attendees will gain insights into digital imaging and scanning techniques (intraoral, CBCT, facial scanning) and CAD/CAM systems. This lecture will cover the integration of digital tools into clinical workflow for improved efficiency and patient outcomes. Communication and collaboration with labs and specialists using digital platforms will be discussed as well.

Whether you're new to digital dentistry or looking to refine your workflow, this course will equip you with the knowledge and confidence to implement digital solutions in your practice effectively.

Andrew Burke, DDS

Dr. Andrew Burke is a graduate of the University at Buffalo School of Dental Medicine class of 2012. After dental school, Dr. Burke completed the Advanced Education in General Dentistry program at the Veterans Hospital in Buffalo, NY. Since residency he has continued his education in IV sedation, implant treatment, prosthodontics and digital dentistry. Over the past 10+ years Dr. Burke has placed thousands of dental implants and completed hundreds of full arch treatments using various types of dental implants and guided surgery methods. Within his two All-on-4 center of excellence offices Dr. Burke utilizes GuidedSmile and Nobel Biocare products to achieve the best results for his patients.

New Dentist Corner with Dr. Devin Klein

We have a couple of new events coming this summer! The New Dentist Committee is bringing back one of our signature events but with an added bonus. On June 10th our Expert Panel Event will take place at Suffolk County Dental Society headquarters. The added bonus for this event is the inclusion of practicing member dentists on our panel. These members will bring a wealth of knowledge and differing perspective on the many paths of dentistry. Space is limited so make sure you reserve your spot!

Our annual summer social will be July 29th but with a new venue and activity. Instead of teeing off at TopGolf we will be hitting the pickleball courts at the Hamlet Golf and Country Club in Commack. Whether you're new to pickleball or a seasoned player, come on down to the Hamlet and enjoy an active evening with us!

Registration for this event is also required. Be on the lookout for the email to register or go to our website at suffolkdental.org.

We are also planning our events for the Fall. If you have an idea for a CE lecture or would like to give a lecture, please reach out to me or our Executive Director, Bill Panzarino. Hope to see you at our upcoming events!

Patient-Centered Care Above All

Yes, the insurance landscape remains a persistent and frustrating challenge. Reimbursement rates that have not kept pace with the rising cost of delivering high-quality dentistry create real pressure on practices. Yet this reality makes our commitment to education even more essential, not less.

When we invest in the most effective techniques, the most durable materials, and the most efficient workflows, we deliver better outcomes that speak for themselves — outcomes that patients feel, see, and talk about.

Patient-centered care means placing comfort, dignity, transparency, and clinical excellence at the heart of every appointment. Dental Society continuing education helps us do exactly that. It equips us with tools and knowledge to reduce patient anxiety, minimize chair time, improve precision, and offer solutions that once required specialist referrals. That is a profound return on investment — not only for the practice, but for every patient we serve.

Our commitment to learning is our promise to our patients. Dental Society CE is where that promise begins.

With gratitude and respect,

Natalia Elson, DDS - President Suffolk County Dental Society

Eleventh Letter from the ADA Second District Trustee to the NYSDA Components - Trustee's Corner

Hello to all my fellow New York State Dental Association members. It is my pleasure to update you on the latest news at the American Dental Association. First and foremost, we have hired a new Executive Director. His name is Dr. Nader Nadershahi and he began his term on March 23rd of this year. As a member of the search committee, I saw firsthand how Dr. Nadershahi shined throughout the interview process, and I am confident he is the perfect choice for the position. Prior to his hiring as the ADA ED, he was Senior Vice President of Education and Professional Affairs at the ADA. Before that, he spent nine years as the Dean of the University of the Pacific Arthur A Dugoni School of Dentistry. His experience in turning around and running a large organization, as well as his financial background, culminated in the search committee and the ADA Board of Trustees unanimously choosing Dr. Nadershahi. It is a new day at the American Dental Association, and I look forward to assisting Dr. Nadershahi leading us into the future.

The Baxter Credit Union agreement with the ADA continues to grow since its' inception last fall. In the first three months, the ADA Credit Union obtained 189 new members with deposits totaling $3.57 million. Month over month, loans increased 10.5% to $1.85 million. I encourage all NYSDA members to investigate joining. Home and car loans at favorable interest rates are available to members and their families as well as office staff members. In addition, bridge loans up to $25,000 are available to students to cover for extra costs, such as book purchases or test fees. The loans are interest free up to a year. This is a tangible benefit membership offered to ADA and NYSDA members that can help you with your bottom line and decrease interest payments over many years.

The Membership and Engagement Model (MEM), which launched in November 2024 in New Jersey, New Hampshire, New Mexico, Washington DC, as well as the state of Washington, primarily focused on testing membership price sensitivity. Preliminary results have shown improvement in recruitment and retention with early career dentists, along with relative stability and improved retention among dentists practicing six years or more. Secondly, engagement packages from the ADA and each specific pilot state were offered in a limited capacity to provide insight about member engagement in optional purchases.

Executive Directors from four of the five participating associations joined the ADA Board of Trustees virtually in early March to report on the initial results and their thoughts on the pilot. All of them joined due to the decline in membership and the interest in looking at membership in a different way. Each of the Executive Directors felt the pilot was going well and were excited to continue the program over the next two years. They also talked about challenges and the lessons they have learned during the first year of the pilot. Although the results were preliminary, the Board of Trustees felt the program showed enough promise and strongly agreed to continue the program for the duration of the three-year pilot.

Earlier this year, in accordance with House Resolution 521-H-2025, the ADA Board of Trustees Governance Committee, as well as the Governance and Organizational Health Evaluation Advisory Task Force, researched several different private companies that specialize in association governance and structural management. The Governance Committee interviewed five of the private firms and decided to hire Vista Cova, a company with expertise in governance redesign and modernization. The firm has begun collecting the background information it will need over the next few months to formulate insights and customized recommendations for our Association.

The annual ADA Lobby Day was held in Washington, DC this year from March 22nd through the 24th. Topics of discussion with US Senators and House of Representatives included the Resident Education Deferred Interest (REDI) Act, ERISA and the Improving Dental Administration Act, as well as expressing concerns with changes at the Health and Human Services Department since the beginning of last year. The REDI Act would defer interest on student loans while residents completed their residency program. This would decrease the burden during residency when there is reduced income or no income at all. The bill already has 13 cosponsors in the Senate and 78 cosponsors in the House. The purpose of the Improving Dental Administration Act is to narrowly amend the ERISA Act of 1974 to have self-funded dental insurance plans be subject to the same provisions as other dental insurance companies. These provisions include prompt payment, noncovered services, dental loss ratios, network leasing stipulations, virtual credit card requirements and pre-authorization continuity. Legislators heard our thoughts about HHS, including a vacant Chief Dental Officer at CMS, the elimination of the Chief Dental Officer at HRSA and the concern oral health programs will be managed in silos. The CDC, CMS and HRSA play very important coordinated roles in advancing the oral health and overall health of our citizens.

As always, if you need to reach me, you can contact me at dowdb@ada.org or call me on my cell phone at 716-510-3217. Thanks again to everyone for their contributions to our profession and organized dentistry.

Respectfully, Brendan Dowd DDS

ADA Trustee, Second District
